They say that there is no state like Arkansas and when one listens as they tell of her resources and her future they almost convince you. But Kentucky is the finest state in the Union and we would not trade homes for any home in Arkansas. Kentuckisms have left this state by the thousands and have traveled and settled down far and near but there is always a longing for old Kentucky that is irresistable and finally brings the wanderer back to the old soil. And go where you have their state songs love our song the best. At the great World's Sunady School Convention in Washington three years ago twenty thousand delegates shook Washington from one end to the, other in the singing of our state song and they said that it brought the tears to thousands of people who were from Kentucky or who were living in other states but were born in Kentucky. A HOME-MADE PAPER.

THURSDAY, July 17, 1913

Winchester, Ky., July 14, 1913. John E. Burgher, Esq., Clay City, Ky.,

My Dear Sir:-

She was buria verdict, had some weingt in causing the Bourbon jury to agree | ly returned to Winchester. The to a life sentence rather than to trial was not concluded. I was fail to make a verdict.

May I give you a brief history on Wednesday, the 19th day of at Stanton on the 17th day of March. The indictments were returned that week, and the negroes who were in the Lexington. Mt. Sterling and Winchester jails were brought to Stanton and the case was set for trial on the 27th of March. It was agreed by the attorneys for the Commonwealth and the attorneys appointed to defend the negroes, that it was useless to try to secure an unbiased jury in Powell, and I had fifty men summoned from Montgomery. A heavy rain fell on the night of March 25th, and the Red River Valley was flooded all had represented the defendants day of the 26th and that night on the former trial, that they and the next day. The trains were sick and would not be able stopped running on the 26th, to try the case. Ordinarily that and only one man summoned would have entitled the case to from Montgomery was able to be continued, but I would not reach Stanton, and he was the have it that way, and I appointlast man to cross the bridge just ed Mr. Wycoff and Mr. Lindsay west of Stanton before a portion to defend, and persuaded them of it went out. Not a single to accept the appointment, and witness from Clay City could get the trial began promptly on the to Stanton on the 27th. The next question to be the defendants were called into make the best fight they could, conference. The attorneys for the and for that they should be comdefendants insisted that the case mended.

should go over till the June term; the ends of justice demanded a speedier trial than that, and suggested that two courses were open; that I could cut the Madison May term short one week and call a special term of the Powell Court for the 26th day of May and try the case then, or, if the Commonwealth and the defendants would consent to transfer the case to Clark county, I would take one week of the April term there and April. This latter suggestion was agreed to, the attorneys appointed to defend giving their consent the Bourbon County jury that however, only on condition that tried the negroes for the murder the jury be procured from some of Mr. Pettitt are unjust, and County other than Clark. The Court met 30th day of June, the first open day, and announced before the people left the Court room, that I would try this case on the 1st day of July, again placing it ahead of the Breathitt cases.

July and August are my vacation months, but I was determined to try this case at the earliest possible day. The case was then pending in Clark and could not have been moved to Powell, or any other County without consent and that was not given. On the 30th day of June, I was informed by Mr. Spencer and Mr. Winn, who under appointment,

Messrs. Wycoff and Lindsay determined was when the case cared nothing for those negroes, could be tried. The attorneys for but their sense of duty to the the Commonwealth and those for Court caused them to act and

Many who heard the trial were of the Powell Court. I urged that disappointed with the verdict. Some things could not be proved that I would have been glad to see proved, but the last Legislature, unwisely, I think, passed what is called the Anti-Sweating Bill, which makes it unlawful and Campfire Girls of Louisville incompetent to prove against a man , harged with c ime, any admissions or statements that he makes while under arrest, in an swer to questions of officers. The trial Judges and all Courts are bound by that Act.

These are the facts with refer ence to the handling of the case, and I know you will be glad to have your recollection refreshed as to the various steps and why hey were taken.

May I close this communicaion with a quotation from Judge John D. Carroll's address delivered at the meeting of the State Bar Association, which was held at Olympian Springs last week? Judge Carroll is one of our ablest Judges of the Court of Appeals, and one of the leading men of the State, and in discussing the speedy trial of Criminal Cases had this to say:

"It is true there are times when some shocking and brutal crime stirs the blood of the best of men and makes them feel that quick retribution should follow, yet I cannot but think that when the time for reflection comes, as it always does, they would be better satisfied if the course of justice was marked by the dignity and deliberation that so well become tribunals that are clothed with the authority of the law and represent its majesty and its power. Anything that encourages a feeling that the Courts are not strong enough to protect any person who committed to their custody, naturally weakens theirinfluence and makes thoughtful people doubtful of their abil ity to stand firm in the face of popular applause or popular indignation.

So that, notwithstanding the clamor for speedy trials, I believe that trials can be too speedy, and thus do more harm than good to the body politic by lessening in place of increasing den

The New Schoolbook Law

A strong effort is expected to be made at the next session of the general assembly to amend the textbook law, possibly restoring the system of state selection. The present law provides that each county shall choose its own textbooks through a commission composed of a member of the county board, a member of the board of examiners and a county school principal. The old contract will expire next year, and as no selections have ever been made by county commissions those in man, we want to get ahead of the Some one has said it takes him 8 ing it before the county commissions have a chance to act. Under the old state system the county judges, county superintendents and county attorneys voted on the textbooks and a majority ruled. Some form of legislation will be considered by the Kentucky Educational association at its meeting in Louisville, April 30, and probably a draft of the measure favored by a majority will be prepared for submission to the general assembly.-Editorial Pineville Sun.

The Truant Law.

When this law is so openly set at naught as to bring a particular case to the attention of the public it is time that a halt was called and the malefactor made to suffer for his shortcomings. The sending of a child to school is a moral duty, and when this moral luty is neglected by those whose duty it is to observe it is the duty of the authorities to step in and take a hand. We want to say that if the county superintendent's attention is called to some flagrant violation and she is compelled to act the strong arm of the law will fall in no gentle manner upon the shoulders of the malefactor. Better send the kiddles to school, which is your duty, and where they belong and thereby fulfill your moral obligation as well as avoid a conflict with the school authorities.-Central

Kentucky Crop Report.

The splendid prospects for good crops as reported on June 10th, have been greatly lessened owing to the severe drouth throughout the State. In some places local showers have been reported and crops in these localities are looking in splendid condition. Central and Western Kentucky seems to be suffering more from the dry and hot weather prevailing. The condition of wheat shows 90%, which is an increase over last month's report of 5 per cent. Wheat is reported as not ylelding so many bushels per acre, but the quality is extra good. The condition of rye also shows a higher average than was anticipated a month ago, same being 89 per cent. The corn crop is 98 per cent while the condition shows 91 per cent. RIGHT HERE IS YOUR CHANCE

This is a straight-from-the-Shoulder Typewriter Talk by a Typewriter Man to the Readers of The Clay City Times.

No other typewriter built-regardless of any claims made—is the equal of the new Fox Visible Typewriter either in material used, or in workmanship, or in the number and convenience of its special features. There are many good typewriters being built and sold, but we claim for the new Fox Visible Typewriter that it is better than the best of these, and that its automatic features combined cannot be found in any oth-er typewriter. The New Fox is a typewriter that will meet with the approval of the most critical user. A single demonstration will convince you--we will make it at our expense, if you will permit us.

Whether you have had the use of a typewriter or not, you have paid for one many times over. Yes sir, we mean it; every day you continue using the old, slow method of writing with a pen you are unconsciously paying for a type-writer. The farmer who cuts his grain with a scythe pays with ev-ery drop of sweat for a reaper. If you are neglectful of your wear-ing apparel and expose yourself unnecessarily to the rain and cold you are paying for the very things that would have kept you well and comfortable. Remember this and mark it well: You must pay—pay—for the necessities of this life, whether you use them or not.

THIS THE NEW VISIBLE FOX "BETTER THAN THE BEST OF ALL OTHERS."

SENT ON FREE TRIAL, Express Paid.

Look at the illustration of our New Fox Visible Typewriter, shown above, and compare it with any other typewriter you have ever seen or used. Here is a really VISIBLE typewriter—note that the printing point is on top in plain eight, and that the type bars rise from where they are lying and strike the platen in full view of the operator, and in a lirect line of vision, and that all of what you have written remains in full sight until the paper is removed from the ypewriter. Compare this with those old style typewriters, that some firms are still advertising as visibles, but on which the printing point is beneath the typebars, and you have to look down into them—or between them—to see what ou have written. Touch a key in the keyboard and you change the color of your writing instantly from black, blue or purple to red. Press the Tabulator Key at the left (in front) for paragraphing, writing the complimentary closing, to; also for all kinds of billing. At the right (in front) is our Back Space Key. This moves the carriage backward for naking corrections, or putting in punctuation. This key also enables the operator to erase a word of three letters and write one of four in its place. Press the Stencil Key shown at the left (front) for making stencils from which thousands of duplicate letters can be made. Four rows of keys reduce the shifting one-third. The right Shift Key locks outomatically for writing in all caps. A positive automatic Line Lock prevents you from writing beyond a predeternined line. The ribbon travels in a "zig-zag" line—not straight across from spool to spool as on others—thus using all of the ribbon and making it last three or four times as long as on other typewriters. The ribbon automatically re-winds tself from one spool to the other without any attention from the operator. Carriages are interchangeable, and run on ball bearing tracks. Platens are removable, so that both a hard and soft platen can be used on the same typewriter. Extremely light touch, "No falling leaf is lighter than the touch
